

This architectural elevation drawing shows a building with a gabled roof. The roofline is marked with callout 1. The building features three distinct siding materials: blue vertical siding on the left, light gray horizontal siding in the center, and tan brickwork on the right. A gutter system is indicated by callout 7. The facade includes a large multi-paned window (callout 3), a solid door (callout 6), a set of double glass doors (callout 8), a small vertical window (callout 9), a set of double shutters (callout 10), and another large multi-paned window (callout 1). A small square window (callout 4) is also visible above the double glass doors.
