

Potato stamps

Potatoes a little 'past their best'? Why not use them for potato stamps before throwing them in the food recycling? This activity is really easy and so much fun.

You'll need:

- Potatoes
- A sharp knife
- Paper
- Paint

Method:

- Cut the shapes in the potatoes for your child
- Get your child involved by asking what shapes they want

LEARN THROUGH PLAY - Potato stamps

- Your child can now dip the potatoes into the paint
- Stamp the painted potatoes onto the paper

Why not?

- Try this activity with other fruit and vegetables too?

The benefits of this activity:

- Doing this together will develop your child's team building skills
- Painting the potatoes will help with your child's hand eye co-ordination

CAUTION:
Adults should cut the shapes in the potatoes!
