

LEARN THROUGH PLAY

Sorting socks

Children love to help and there are a lot of benefits to your child's development from helping with household jobs.

- It helps them feel part of the family
- It develops their team building skills as you work together
- Your child will also learn new words as you talk about the colours, sizes and textures

For this activity just ask your child to help match up the clean socks before they get put away. Simple!